

Obwalden and its seven municipalities

The Canton of Obwalden comprises the seven municipalities Sarnen, Kerns, Sachseln, Alpnach, Giswil, Lungern, and the exclave Engelberg.

Obwalden and its seven municipalities

Alpnach is an attractive residential community on the shores of Lake Lucerne and at the foot of Mt. Pilatus. In addition to diverse job opportunities and tourist attractions, residents also benefit from its convenient location along the transit route from Lucerne to Interlaken, with rail and highway access.

Engelberg is characterized by its cozy village atmosphere, beautiful surroundings, and an impressive mountain panorama. Good restaurants, mountain huts, and hotels in this tourist resort at 1,000 meters above sea level and on local landmark Mt. Titlis invite guests to linger. There are no limits to the offer on leisure, sports, and cultural activities in the midst of this unique scenery.

Giswil is situated in a spacious recreational landscape and offers diverse and attractive housing options with a high quality of life. Numerous well-marked and maintained hiking and biking trails allow for both challenging and easy tours in beautiful nature.

Kerns, on its slightly elevated plateau, offers a unique 360-degree view over all of Obwalden. The largest community in Obwalden by area delights with beautiful scenery and an attractive and sunny residential area. The recreational area of Melchsee-Frutt, an exciting place both in summer and in winter, is right on its doorstep.

Lungern is situated in the uppermost part of the Canton of Obwalden, on the shores of the mountain lake bearing the same name, and at the foot of the Brünig Pass. Thanks to the versatility and innovative strength of its local businesses, Lungern is an ideal place to live and work. Families and those seeking relaxation will find a wide choice of leisure activities at Lungern-Schönbühl.

Sachseln is a versatile community and impresses visitors with its fantastic location on Lake Sarnen, surrounded by a picturesque mountain landscape. The industrial enterprises of Sachseln are world-renowned and provide many high-quality jobs. Also, Switzerland's official geographic center is located in Sachseln.

Sarnen finds itself in rural surroundings on beautiful Lake Sarnen and was already the economic center of the Sarneraa Valley early on. The cantonal capital enjoys a comprehensive range of educational options and leisure activities. Apart from its impressive history and venerable buildings, hotels and restaurants provide options for accommodation and food.

The canton of Obwalden is divided into seven municipalities that are traditionally largely autonomous and cultivate a close collaboration.
